Mr. Browne's Assignment

Please send me a postcard this summer with YOUR personal precept. It can be something you made up for yourself or something you've read somewhere that means something to you. (If so, don't forget the attribution, please!) I really look forward to getting them.

Pretend you are in Mr. Browne's class. Write your own precept on the post card below. Decorate the front.

A rectangular box representing the back of a postcard. On the left side, there are ten horizontal lines for writing. On the right side, there is a small square box, likely intended for an address or postage stamp.

Theme

The message,
moral, or lesson
of a story.

Wonder

After reading Wonder, what do you think the theme of this book is? What lesson does the author want you to learn?

What evidence from the book lets you know that this is the theme? Give a few examples.

Using this research, decide on a way to present this information to your class (a brochure, a nonfiction book, a presentation, a trifold, etc).

PRECEPTS

Note to teacher...
The next few pages are Mr. Browne's precepts. Use them to hang in your classroom as you read this novel. You can discuss each precept individually as you hang it up.

They are great discussion starters for any class!

There's so much you can do...Use them for writing activities, research the people behind the precepts, or just simply discuss their meanings!

I have included a sheet at the end for the students to choose a precept, write it in their own words, and explain it.

Enjoy!

When given the choice between being right or being kind,
choose kind.

-Dr. Wayne W. Dyer

Your deeds are your monuments.

-Inscription on an Egyptian tomb

Have no friends not equal to yourself.

-Confucius

Audentes fortuna iuvat.
(Fortune favors the bold.)

-Virgil

No man is an island,
entire of itself.

-John Donne

It is better to know
some of the questions than all of the answers.

-James Thurber

Kind words do not cost much, yet
they accomplish much.

-Blaise Pascal

What is beautiful is good, and who is good will soon be beautiful.

-Sappho

Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as you ever can.

-John Wesley's Rule

Just follow the day and reach for the sun!

-The Polyphonic Spree, “Light and Day”

Everyone in the world
should get a standing ovation at least once in their life because we all overcometh
the world.
